Tutoring Experience

With over 12 years of experience, I've worked extensively with A-Level and IB students, helping them excel in both macroeconomics and microeconomics. My students have gained entry into top global universities, leveraging their strong performance in Economics and related subjects.

In addition to A-Level and IB curricula, I've also guided AP students, supporting them with their preparation for rigorous exams. My experience extends to undergraduate tutoring, focusing on econometrics and academic writing, ensuring students master advanced economic concepts.
